Carl Amodio, DC, DIBAK has been in practice since 2001 and received his Diplomate from the International Board of Applied Kinesiology in 2011. He began incorporating the QA Clinical Protocol into his practice in 2005 while attending the inaugural QA Course. He is a graduate of Life University (Life) and is the owner of Optimal Health in Roswell, GA. He is on faculty at Life teaching the elective course: Introduction to Applied Kinesiology, which he designed and introduced in 2006 at the request of his friend and colleague Dr. William Harris.

Dr. Amodio helped start the first ever AK club on Life campus in 2006. He is currently the faculty advisor for the club which, with much excitement and interest, is still going strong today. Dr. Amodio has been a QA co-lecturer and workshop leader and is now excited to be conducting the first QA Workshop series ever to be held in Atlanta!
